Main updates this week:

- All group members participated in discussion on Canvas about scheduling and plans for communication platforms to be used
- It was decided that our group's Canvas discussion board will be used for the discussion of broader ideas and plans, while weekly meetings will be held on Google Hangouts each Monday afternoon (PST) to formulate a specific plan of action for the week
- Pavallan began an email chain to loop the customer (Meredith Kiessling) in on our discussion and also started a Google Doc, which will be used to share group work
